Bailiffs were sent to the homes of 24,000 council tax evaders in only three years, new figures from the borough council reveal.

A teenager has appeared in court charged with luring an American woman to secluded woods where he allegedly tried to kill her.

A new "demand-led" bus service in Northamptonshire could see school buses used to pick up passengers after the school run has finished.

Flytipping fears over old tyres

THE cost and difficulty of recycling tyres in Northamptonshire has raised concerns that some people will resort to fly-tipping them.

Dave Mills, aged 61, a retired engineer from Milton Malsor, was first alerted to the difficulties involved in disposing of them when he tried to take some spare wheels to the recycling centre at Sixfields, in Northampton.

He said: "When I took them there I was told I couldn't drop them off and had to take them to a waste centre in Brackmills.

"When I got there I was told they would take them but would charge £3 per wheel to recycle them.

"What is the incentive to recycle tyres when they are charging for recycling? If it becomes so difficult to get rid of them, what is there to encourage people to stop throwing them on the road or in the countryside?"

Alan Heath, from Friends of the Earth Northants, which is campaigning to get the Government to boost recycling, said: "We really want to see recycling improved and it seems crazy to, on one hand, try to encourage recycling but on the other charge them for it.

"The council and taxpayers will have to pay if it goes to landfill or they have to clear up fly-tipping, so it would seem sensible not to charge for any recycling; it should be as accessible as possible."

Trevor Cooper, franchise owner of HiQ, in Campbell Street, Northampton, said: "We don't encourage people to take their own tyres away.

"When we change tyres we include a £2 charge for their disposal in the price of the new tyre.

"They are very difficult to recycle. They are becoming more of a useful scrap component these days by being used in playgrounds and things but they are still a difficult component to get rid of."

A spokesman for Northamptonshire County Council said: "It's unusual for householders to dispose of tyres themselves as it is standard practice for the old tyre to be taken by the garage or tyre retailer.

"Because of their classification as difficult waste, tyres have to be taken to our specialist waste facility at Brackmills where a nominal fee is charged."

■ THEFTS of scrap metal, car batteries and catalytic converters from vehicles in rural parts of the county are on the increase, police have warned.

Police said metal thefts still remained an issue in rural areas of Northamptonshire while scrap metal prices were high.

Work plan for long-term sick

MORE than 17,000 people in Northamptonshire who claim long-term incapacity benefit are to be reassessed to try to get many of them working again.

The Government announced it wanted to end a "one size fits all approach" to people with illness and disabilities.

It means 6,170 people in Northampton and 17,290 across the county will have their circumstances scrutinised over the next three years to see what kind of work they are capable of doing, if any.

A spokeswoman for the Department of Work and Pensions said: "Ministers are determined to reform the welfare system and help those who have been previously written off get back to work and regain their independence."

Incapacity Benefit claimants will have a Work Capability Assessment (WCA), which determines what a person can do as opposed to what they cannot. The most severely disabled and people who are terminally ill will not be expected to look for work and will get extra help through the new Employment and Support Allowance (ESA). But anyone reassessed and found fit for work will be moved onto Jobseekers Allowance and expected to look for work.

Chris Grayling, minister for employment, said: "I cannot stress strongly enough that this is not about forcing people back to work if they are genuinely unable to do so."

"Nor are we tied into specific financial targets about the number of people we need to get back to work. This is about finding out who we can help. Perhaps to do something different to what they did previously, but still to do something more with their lives."

Each claimant will have to provide written information about their case, with any supporting material from their doctor, and go through a reassessment exercise.

People with severe and long-term disabilities will not be expected to look for work and will get extra help

Earl's Wilde about charity

EARL Spencer presented a cheque on behalf of a Northamptonshire business to the Warwickshire and Northamptonshire Air Ambulance, after staff adopted it for their chosen charity.

Employees at the Wilde Group, a group of fencing and joinery firms based in New Duston, Northampton, raised £2,207 for the flying doctors with a combination of cake bakes, raffles, a football World Cup sweepstake and a marathon run.

The company's charity for this year is Cynthia Spencer Hospice, which was founded by Earl Spencer's grandmother.

Tesco is open for business

ABOUT 30 people queued up early to be the first customers inside the new Tesco store which opened in Northampton town centre on Monday.

More than 1,200 people passed through the tills of the new Metro supermarket in Abington Street before it was officially opened at 10am, with some even queuing for its 8am opening to be first through the doors. The supermarket, which will add to the nine Tesco stores already in Northampton, is on the site of the former Woolworths store and has created 80 jobs.

Peggy Slatter, personnel manager, said: "We had a really good atmosphere. When we opened we clapped the customers as they came in and sang good morning. We have had a lot of good feedback."

Nick Malloy, store manager, said he was convinced the store would be good for other local businesses: "More people will come to the town and people will still use local butchers and bakers. We have found in other places when a Tesco has opened up it has been a boost to local businesses as well."

Northampton Mayor Marianne Taylor cut the ribbon for the opening ceremony and also accepted a cheque from Tesco for £1,000 for the Mayor's Charity, which will be donated to Home Start Northampton and the Crazy Hats Breast Cancer Appeal.

She said: "Woolworths was a very central place where people met up and I think there will be a similar atmosphere around Tesco and it will make people see Northampton as a happening town."

Anu Shenoy, aged 29, a mail sorter who lives in Northampton House, was among the hundreds passing the new store's threshold early yesterday morning. She said: "I was quite excited about the opening. I live two minutes away so it is going to be really convenient for me and will be more affordable."

Mary Fensome, aged 39, a financial advisor from Wootton, visited the store on her day off, said: "It is a lot bigger than I expected and will be very convenient when we are shopping."

By 6pm on the first day, 5,000 people had been served at the tills.

£9m plan to help buses

DETAILS of a £9 million new "demand-led" bus service are being put together by Northamptonshire County Council.

As part of the authority's £73 million budget cuts earlier this year, the county council cut £1.4 million from bus subsidies across the county.

But now, the authority has published details of a new public transportation framework which would run from June this year until June 2014, with the contract worth an estimated value of £9 million.

Details of how the new bus system would work are still sketchy, but the council's cabinet member for transport, Councillor Heather Smith (Con, Prebenal) said it could see school buses used to pick up residents who have pre-booked journeys after the bus has finished the school run.

She said: "The intention is that we'll look at trying to utilise some of the home-to-school transport services more, so that after the buses have dropped the children off at school they're then available to take people where they want to go in the county."

"After all, it doesn't make sense to have buses driving back from schools empty when there are people who want to get about places."

It is hoped the new bus system will be similar to one in the north of the county which has already been trialed successfully.

It is planned that the system would operate in five parts of the county, including rural areas, where public transport is scarce.

Further announcements about the future of the council's new system are expected to be made in the coming months and companies have given until next month to express an interest in the scheme.

Band gets call-up for top festival

INDIE-FOLK band My First Tooth will be heading to Glastonbury this summer after being picked from more 7,000 bands all hoping to play at the iconic festival.

The Northampton-based act took to the stage last Saturday night, competing in the Glastonbury Emerging Talent Contest. While they did not win a place on the main stage, all eight acts impressed festival organiser Michael Eavis enough to secure a place at the festival.

Singer and guitarist, Ross Witt, said: "It's fantastic to have a place at Glastonbury; it's a festival I've always wanted to play at. To get down to the final 123 bands was an achievement enough, so this is even better."

About 7,000 bands entered the contest, before a panel of 40 music bloggers compiled a long list of 123 acts.

This was whittled down to a short list of eight bands by judges, which included festival organiser Mr Eavis and his daughter, Emily.

Saturday's performance was at Pilton Working Men's Club, near the main festival site.

My First Tooth were competing against My Tiger My Timing, Emily And The Woods, Twin Brother, Louise And The Pins, Treetop Flyers, Tristram and J Treole.

Ross said: "At the end of the night, Michael Eavis got on the stage and announced the winner, at the same time saying that all the bands would be playing at the festival."

Treetop Flyers were chosen as winners and will play on the main stage at the festival in June.

This year's festival will be headlined by U2, Coldplay and Beyonce.

Ross is joined in My First Tooth by Jo Collis, Sophie Galpin and Gareth Amwel Jones.

SPECIAL OFFER FOR OUR OVER 50s READERS

Over 50s life insurance.

A helping hand from just £5 a month...that's less than 17p a day.

A cash sum towards funeral costs

When you've spent all your life taking care of your family, the last thing you want is to leave them with financial worries. Have you thought about how your loved ones will pay for your funeral?

Legal and General's Over 50s Fixed Life Insurance Plan can help ease the financial burden on your loved ones at a very difficult time, by providing a cash sum towards funeral costs, outstanding bills or other debts. It's important to consider that the cash sum provided by the plan is fixed so its value may be reduced by inflation.

Aged 50 to 80 guaranteed acceptance

As long as you are aged between 50 to 80 and a UK resident, your acceptance is guaranteed. There's no need for a medical and no time consuming health assessment when you apply.

Cover for life

Our plan provides cover for the whole of your life. If you die within the first two years of starting your plan we will not pay the cash sum, but we will return all the premiums paid. However, if you die as a result of an accident (exclusions and limitations apply), then the full cash sum will be paid instead. Depending on how long you live, the total premiums paid may be greater than the cash sum payable when you die.

"The service I have received from Legal & General has been second to none."

Mrs F. Betts

In response to the service received following a claim for her husband's Life Cover.

Our guarantees to you

- ✓ Guaranteed acceptance for UK residents aged between 50 and 80.
- ✓ No medical or health assessment when you apply.
- ✓ Your premiums will never increase once the plan starts.
- ✓ After two years, the plan will pay out regardless of the cause of death.
- ✓ You need to pay premiums until you die. However, if you reach your 90th birthday, you stop paying premiums but your cover continues for the rest of your life. If you stop paying premiums when they are due, the plan will be cancelled and you will not get anything back.

This plan has no cash-in value at any time.

FREE £50 M&S VOUCHERS

Gift sent after three consecutive premiums are received. Full terms and conditions are available with your information pack.

County church role for former pop star

THIS Palm Sunday, a former pop star and current host of Radio 4's Saturday Live will be taking his first service as the new parish priest of St Mary the Virgin Church in Finedon.

The Rev Richard Coles, aged 48, grew up in Barton Seagrave and Great Addington, and attended Wellingborough School. Mr Coles, who used to be with 80s band The Communards, said: "From when I was a boy I've always loved Finedon church, and I remember four years ago, when I was staying with my parents, I cycled past the church and thought it would be lovely to work there."

Since moving in to the vicarage, Mr Coles has been offering support to members of Finedon Dolben Cricket Club who were on the club's tour of Majorca last week when one of the club's sponsors, Thomas Swannell, was arrested on suspicion of murder after a man's death in an alleged bar brawl.

Bikes bonanza*HUNDREDS of Harley-Davidson bikers roared down Abington Street last weekend as part of an annual fund-raising rally.

Onlookers parted to allow the stream of bikes and leather-clad riders along the town centre street before parking near the Cobbler's Last statue on Saturday morning.

The noisy spectacle was in aid of the annual Terry Wire April Fools Harley-Davidson Run, which raises money for Cynthia Spencer Hospice in Northampton.

The bikers, who had travelled from all over the county as well as Buckinghamshire, Leicestershire and Yorkshire, met at Six-fields before being escorted by police to Northampton town centre.

Terry Wire, a former firefighter and ex-Mayor of Northampton, started the rally seven years ago in conjunction with Dave Barringer, of Northants V-Twin in St James, Northampton.

This year's event raised a total of £2,407 for the hospice, and Mr Wire said: "It's a worthwhile cause for which we have already raised more than £20,000."

"It wouldn't be possible without the bikers. They really get on board and have a great time."

"We're really grateful for the co-operation of the police, and local authorities and the Cobblers."

Sue Bownass, community fund-raiser for the hospice, said:

"It's a really wonderful, fantastic spectacle."

"There were crowds of people either side of the street waving and cheering them all on when they arrived on their bikes together. "I think it was the most we have ever seen. It's great for the town centre too because it brings so many people out to have a good look."

Terry organised the first event shortly after being diagnosed with cancer eight years ago and is supported by the hospice.

He added: "An event like this really gives you a good lift, especially knowing that it is all for a great cause."

"I know I can rely on the hospice whenever I need their support and I'm very grateful."

On your marks...

ENTRIES are now open for this year's The Run Northamptonshire, an annual event which sees thousands of people run through the streets of Northampton.

The mass participation event, which is now in its third year, will take place on Sunday, October 2, starting and finishing from Sixfields Stadium, home of Northampton Town FC.

Chris Holmes, director at Northamptonshire Sport, said "The Run '11 is the ideal mass participation event to engage with the local community.

"And with London 2012 Olympic and Paralympics Games around the corner, we hope to use it to create a legacy of sports participation here in Northamptonshire"

With hopes of attracting well over 3,000 participants this year, organisers are keen to stress the event is open to everyone, regardless of experience.

Anyone interested in entering is invited to sign up either on-line at www.the-run.org or to look out for one of the entry forms that will be circulating county gyms, libraries, council receptions and country parks.

Those entering before July 29 will be able to take part for a discounted price.

A few simple guidelines were set out to ensure that it was always a pleasure to do business with Homesure. No dubious sales techniques, false promises or underhand tactics, just straight forward good deals, a great product for a fair price. Those initial principals have not changed. Over 100 new customers a month from Milton Keynes, and the surrounding areas, now choose a brand of The Home Improvement Partnership, either Homesure, The Door Studio, Denverglaze, Simply Conservatories or MK Glass. Therefore, you are invited to have a FREE NO OBLIGATION QUOTATION in the comfort of your own home or online, or to visit our QUOTE CLINIC. Bring your window sizes, styles and maybe a photo to our showroom for on the spot advice, design and quotation. You can see for yourself our range of products and finishes. # Maternity unit wins plaudits

MOTHERS and babies at Northampton General Hospital are in safe hands according to a latest NHS risk inspection.

Maternity services at the hospital were given an intense two-day assessment and the results revealed the trust offered high quality and safe care for mothers and babies.

Head of midwifery, Anne Thomas, said: "We are all absolutely delighted and are very proud of our award, which acknowledges the safe, quality care we endeavour to provide to the women who use our service."

"The team of eight midwives and obstetricians, led by our governance matron, Christine Ainsworth, worked long and hard to review records and gather the evidence for the rigorous assessment."

Having already achieved level one in 2009 with a 100 per cent score, passing last month's assessment meant maternity staff reached level two.

It meant NGH was judged to have high standards and presented a lower risk to women, which is good both for mothers and babies and also good for the hospital's finances.

It represented a saving to the trust of £389,000 per year in insurance premiums.

Christine Ainsworth said: "We were very pleased with our achievement in the level one assessment."

"However we knew we deserved to be a level two unit."

"Over the last 18 months we have implemented a number of quality initiatives, including new maternity records and a state-of-the-art clinical IT system, which have enabled us to come forward early for our reassessment."

"Success at the level two assessment demonstrates that the guidelines and processes assessed at level one have been implemented. This gives assurance, not only to the NHSLA but also to women and families, that the care provided by the maternity service at NGH is underpinned by quality and safety."

"We are committed to constantly improving our services to provide the highest quality of care for our mums and babies and so we are already starting to plan for achieving the level three assessment as soon as we can."

Bullys boys return for headline set

Club Sessions return to the Roadmender in Northampton this week with a headline set by Audio Bullys. The electronic music duo of Simon Franks and Tom Dinsdale – aka Audio Bullys – will be stomping their way to Northampton for a full live performance.

The Roadmender will be transformed with an upgraded audio and lighting set-up, creating an audio and visual feast for the senses, befitting one of the most influential acts on the electronic music scene.

Responsible for massive hits such as, We Don't Care and the Nancy Sinatra rework Shot You Down, the Audio Bullys released their third album, Higher Than The Eiffel, in March last year. It featured a collaboration with Suggs. Club Sessions have previously brought headline shows to the Roadmender by acts such as LTJ Bukem, Stanton Warriors, Pendulum, Steve Angello, Plump DJs, Adam Freeland, Annie Mac and Eric Prydz.

Supporting them on the night will be residents Suspect, Little Jo and D'arcy with Moist hosting the front room.

Audio Bullys play The Roadmender tomorrow.

Standard tickets cost £13.50, however, VIP packages are available.

Doors open at 9pm and the night runs until 3am.

To book tickets, visit www.ticket-tailor.com/checkout/view-event/id/451/chk/f6bd. For more information, visit www.clubsessions.co.uk

The final tour

POPULAR show Calendar Girls is coming to the end of its run at Milton Keynes Theatre this week. The show is on its final UK tour before amateur rights are released next year, and returns after sell-out shows in 2010. It stars Lynda Bellingham, Jennifer Ellison and Bernie Nolan and tells the story of a group of ordinary women, members of a very ordinary Yorkshire

WI, who spark a global phenomenon by persuading one another to pose for a cheeky charity calendar with a difference. As interest snowballs, the Calendar Girls find themselves revealing more than they had ever planned. The film was released in 2003 and was an instant hit at the box office, becoming the number one grossing film in the UK on its release, and the stage version's stars have included some of the biggest names in British TV. The play is the most successful ever to tour the UK and has taken more at the box office than the original film. The show takes place until April 9 and tickets cost £11.50 to £32.50. Tickets are available by calling 0844 871 7652 or online at the website www.ambassador-tickets.com/miltonkeynes

Cobblers striker Guillem Bauza is under there somewhere after he was mobbed following his goal in the 1-1 draw at Burton Albion

PICTURE: KELLY COOPER

Johnson's confident of Cobblers survival

GARY Johnson is confident the Cobblers will have enough to survive in the Football League this season.

Town drew 1-1 at Burton Albion on Tuesday night, with the home side cancelling out Guillem Bauza's smartly-taken goal to take a share of the spoils in an encounter in which both sides looked nervous and short of confidence.

It is a result that puts Northampton five points clear of the npower League Two bottom two, and although it does consume their game in hand on Barnet and Stockport, a stronger goal difference gives them a further advantage over those sides.

The club will also today be informed of the punishment meted out to Hereford United for fielding an ineligible player in their game against Torquay – if the Bulls are deducted three points, they too will go below Johnson's men.

"We don't know how important these odd points are going to be later in the season at this moment in time," he said.

"What we're doing as a staff is to make sure we don't get really dragged into it (the relegation battle). We've still got a decent goal difference so that puts us six points ahead of the bottom two really so they've got to win two more than us in the last six games.

"That's still a difficult feat but we're confident we will have enough to avoid being involved in anything like that.

"That doesn't mean I'm not worried about it. Last night the players reacted well and showed good mental strength in what was a big game for us."

The Cobblers boss admitted a draw was a fair result at the Pirelli Stadium, where his side did not do enough with a string of opportunities they had to produce something at a set-piece.

"I wasn't pleased with a point because we came to get a win but I think a draw was probably a fair result," he said. "Both teams tried to get the ball into the box but because they're both nervous and low on confidence it wasn't really going in with a great deal of quality.

"We had lots of set plays and we didn't quite get the ball on the button.

"We maybe just lacked a bit of quality because of the tension of the game.

"The one fantastic bit of quality gave us our goal but we need to see more of that because that will win us games."

The Cobblers are back at Sixfields on Saturday when they take on promotion-chasing Bury (ko 3pm).

Mallinder demands more

SAINTS may have put 50 points past Sale, but director of rugby Jim Mallinder insists a repeat of that showing won't be good enough against Ulster on Sunday.

Mallinder's men take on the Irish province in a Heineken Cup quarter-final at stadium: mk on the back of three successive wins in the Aviva Premiership.

The latest against Sale saw them run in eight tries, but four of them came when Sale were down to 14 men after Neil Briggs had been sent off, and up until then the Sharks made several breaks, scoring two tries themselves.

Mallinder knows such lapses in defence will be punished by an Ulster side that registered a sixth successive win at the weekend and sit second in the Magners League.

And it will be something Saints will be working on this week as they prepare for the club's first home quarter-final since 2000 when they beat Wasps at Franklin's Gardens and went on to win the Heineken Cup for the first and, so far, only time.

Mallinder said: "We are going to have to be better in defence then we were against Sale on Saturday.

"I watched Ulster beat Scarlets on TV and I was impressed with them, they have gone through a very good run of form of late and won a lot of games.

"It is going to be tough, but we have played well in Europe up to now. We have won six out of six, it is a home game for us and we will have the majority of the fans behind us, so it is up to us.

"It will be a real tough game, but it is one we are capable of winning."

Saints trained at stadium: mk last Tuesday in a bid to get used to the pitch, which will be extended to the same size as Franklin's Gardens. It's a good surface and Mallinder is expecting a pacy game.

"It will be hard and fast," he said. "The pitch is hard and very similar to the one at the Gardens, it will make for a good game."

The game is being screened live on Sky Sports 2.
